Sweet 16-Year-Olds Here Take Two Top Awards in Nancy O. Competition

To Darlene Wavra, 16, goes the title of Miss Nancy O. of Magic Valley," and a $10 check as first place winner of the Nancy O. contest to find the sweetest face in America. A junior in Twin Falls high school, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wavra, 322 Fifth avenue north.

Second place and a $5 check were won by Mitzie Gillette, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Gillette, 322 Blue Lakes boulevard. She also is a junior in Twin Falls high school.

Prizes of $1 each were won by Peggy Bae Sullivan, 12, eighth grade student and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Velden J. Sullivan, Gooding; Helene Ruth Hill, 19, secretary at the Bob Reese Motor company in Twin Falls and daughter of Mrs. Neva F. Kirkman, Filer, and Joyce Willis, 15, a high school sophomore and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Willis, 1239 Kimberly road, Twin Falls.

To each winner goes the chance of competing for the national Nancy O. title and all the prizes which go with it—a chaperoned trip to Paris, $500, a complete Conover career girl course, an appearance on television, and a dozen hats.

Pictures of the Magic Valley winners have been sent to Al Capp, creator of the Li'l Abner comic strip, for final judging. The winner will be announced in the Li'l Abner comic strip of May 14.

Judges of the Magic Valley contest borrowed microscopes to judge the hundreds of photographs entered.

The equipment came via the West Po'okchop railroad but can't be returned. A Lower Slobbovian spy sent along a concoction of turnip greens soaked with Rickapoo Joy Juice which evaporated both the equipment and then the judges—fortunately after their decisions were made.

Capp started the contest to find the sweetest face in America to be used with the fabulously gulpy figure of Nancy O., who has a face that only Li'l Abner could love—that of his mother, Mammy Yokum.

Defendant in Trial Refutes Death Blame

RUPERT, April 26 — LaMont Schofield, Rupert milk dealer, Thursday denied that Kenneth Williams was working for him when the youth fell from a tree and broke his back in 1948.

Schofield made his denial on the stand in the district court action being tried before Judge Isaac MacDougall, Pocatello. The action is being brought by the youth's mother, Mrs. Nellie Williams, who is seeking $50,000 for the death of her son and $2,266.64 for hospital and doctor bills.

The defendant said the youth was working for him half days at the time of his fatal injury. He said Williams snatched milk bottles for him in the morning but that he was not hired to trim trees. Schofield said he was trimming trees on his farm and that although Williams begged to be permitted to do the work he refused to let him climb the trees.

Schofield testified that Williams returned on his own time and climbed a tree while Schofield was not around and fell 40 feet to the ground.

Trial of the action started Wed...

Education Board Debates Plans on Teacher Schools

POCATELLO, April 26 (AP)—The state board of education today began a discussion on disposal of Idaho's orphaned teacher colleges.

John Remsberg, Rupert, board president, said he'd heard rumors that a proposal to transfer buildings at Northern and Southern Idaho Colleges of Education to the Lewiston and Albion school districts may be submitted to the board.

He said "no concrete proposal" regarding disposition of the two schools has been submitted.

A Lewiston Chamber of Commerce plan for financing operation of NICE for the next two years is expected to be studied.

Remsberg said he had heard that persons "seeking local relief for the space shortage in schools" in Lewiston and Albion may submit the proposals to transfer the college buildings to the local districts.

Board Seeks Crash Cause; 43 Are Killed

From UP and AP Reports

KEY WEST, Fla., April 26—A navy board of inquiry met today to fix the blame for a "nightmarish" collision of a naval plane and a Cuban airliner in which 43 persons plunged to an ocean death near President Truman's vacation retreat.

The twin-engine navy plane, with a four-man crew practicing blind flying, and the Cubana airline's DC-4, with 34 passengers and five crew members, rammed together about noon yesterday over this southernmost tip of the United States. No one survived.

Grim navy divers recovered more wreckage and mangled bodies today from the shattered sections of the two planes.

By mid-morning a total of 23 bodies had been brought to the surface and taken to morgues. Nineteen were located yesterday after the crash.

Divers worked in relays, two at a time, over the smashed pieces of the four-engined transport, scattered over a wide area on the sandy bottom 20 feet below the surface.

Idaho Office of Exceptional Education Contacts Schools for New Information

Preliminary to its formal opening May 21, Idaho's new office of exceptional education, operating in connection with the department of law enforcement, is calling upon all public schools in the state for assistance in gathering vitally important information.

All high school students in Idaho will be asked to fill out a confidential questionnaire, the replies to which will be used by the office of exceptional education in launching an exhaustive study of the state's most serious social problems.

The new department in state government will concern itself chiefly with the various problems relating to narcotics, alcohol and sex. Its purpose is two-fold. To combat these problems scientifically in their developed stages and to avoid them in the future by exceptional education in the schools, particularly among those youngsters with personality characteristics which eventually might lead to the problems mentioned.

The office of exceptional education is working directly with all the sheriffs in Idaho, asking them in turn to urge the high schools in their respective counties to circulate the questionnaires among all students.

Inasmuch as the questionnaire is intended to provide over-all information to be used in perfecting a statewide plan, the students will not be asked to sign their names and the knowledge thus gained will not be used publicly as pertaining to any particular community.

Several schools in Magic Valley already are circulating the questionnaire among their students and within a week all schools in Idaho will have been contacted.

As stated on the questionnaire itself: "It is entirely non-controversial and unbiased. It preserves and respects everyone's personal rights and opinions."

Freeze of Parity Prices, Stronger Price Controls Are Asked by President

WASHINGTON, April 26 (U.P.)—President Truman asked congress today to freeze farm parity and pass stronger price control regulations. In a long message to the house and senate, he also promised to consider using "limited food subsidies" in the near future. Those were major points in his recommendations for extending and strengthening the defense production act under which controls are operated.

The president's new economic program was embodied in seven basic recommendations:

1. Extend the life of the defense production act for two years. The present law expires June 30.

2. Authorize the government to build and operate defense plants.

3. Permit the use of subsidies where necessary to boost essential production by high-cost producers without increasing prices. This would apply largely to certain metals.

4. Tighten credit controls over housing and regulation of speculative commodity trading.

5. Allow the parity price for each farm commodity as of the beginning of its marketing season to be used for price control purposes throughout the marketing season. The prohibition against freezing prices below parity would be continued, but this would prevent any rise in the parity figure during the year.

6. Stronger price control enforcement.

7. "Effective control" over residential and commercial rents. There is no control now over commercial rents, and only partial control over homes.

Mr. Truman in addition to the seven-point program called again for a quick increase in taxes to spread the cost of defense through the American population and to combat inflation.

He warned consumers and busi...

President Says War Change up to Reds

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP) — President Truman said today it is up to the communists to choose between spreading the Korean war or seeking a peaceful settlement.

He did not elaborate and he specifically refused comment at a news conference on reports that Lieut. Gen. Matthew Ridgway has authority to bomb Manchuria if he deems it necessary.

But Mr. Truman's assertion that the choice of peace or a greater war is up to the communists left open the interpretation that United Nations forces would strike back outside Korea if large enemy air forces enter the fighting.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's insistence that the enemy should be hit in what he called its Manchurian "sanctuary" was among the policy differences which led President Truman to dismiss the far eastern commander.

At his meeting with reporters, the President also:

1. Said MacArthur can now say and go where he pleases—that while he still has strings on the deposed far eastern commander he does not intend to pull them.

2. Expressed confidence in Secretary of State Acheson and said former ECA Administrator Paul Hoffman is not going to succeed Acheson. He said he already has a secretary with whom he is very well satisfied.

The Presidents mention of MacArthur came in response to questions regarding the general's present status. He said MacArthur has a permanent lifetime job as a five-

New City Hall Contract Goes To Local Firm

Award of a $121,500 contract to Reynolds and Walker, Twin Falls, to build the new Twin Falls city hall was made Wednesday afternoon at a special meeting of the city board of commissioners.

The firm will meet with the city attorney, Robert N. W. Ballelsen, soon to discuss contract terms. According to the firm's bid, the building is to be completed in 130 working days.

Two of the five bids on the project submitted to the commissioners were lower than the Reynolds and Walker bid but both required a longer period of time for completion. The next lowest bid was $5,500 lower than the city engineer's estimate of $127,000.

Other competing firms were Brennan and Cahoon, Ind., Pocatello, $117,848, with the project to be completed in 180 days; Hansen construction company, Boise, $121,500; C. W. Wagner and company, Boise, $128,397, 120 days; C. B. Lauch Construction company, Boise, $130,378, 225 days.

Ballelsen said Thursday morning that according to the authority granted by the national production board, construction must be started by June 9. If not unable to fix a date for the beginning of work, but said the city intends to start as soon as possible.

The new city hall will be built in the 300 block of Second avenue east.

GOPers Challenge Plans for Hearing

WASHINGTON, April 26 (UP) — Senate Republicans challenged Democratic plans today to conduct the Gen. Douglas MacArthur investigation in secret and demanded a "back to Yalta" review of far eastern policy.

Sen. Robert A. Taft, O., and other GOP policy spokesmen insisted that the proceedings be public and televised. They demanded that the full scope of postwar dealing with China be covered.

Chairman Richard B. Russell of the senate investigating committee which will hear MacArthur May 3, just as emphatically opposed the Republican demands.

Violin Artist Arrives Here For Concerts

Unlike the artist who shows up two minutes before concert time, leaving his sponsors and audience somewhat up in the air, David Rubinoff and his wife arrived in Twin Falls at 9:20 p. m. Wednesday well ahead of his Thursday night concert at the high school auditorium.

The famed violinist was met at the city limits by a police escort and committee from the Twin Falls Rotary club, the sponsoring organization, R. J. Schwendiman, chairman of the board of commissioners, presented a corsage to Mrs. Rubinoff and potatoes and beans to the violinist.

Thursday Rubinoff was scheduled to present a series of free and brief concerts in all grade schools and high schools in Buhl, Filer, Kimberly, Twin Falls and at Jerome high school.

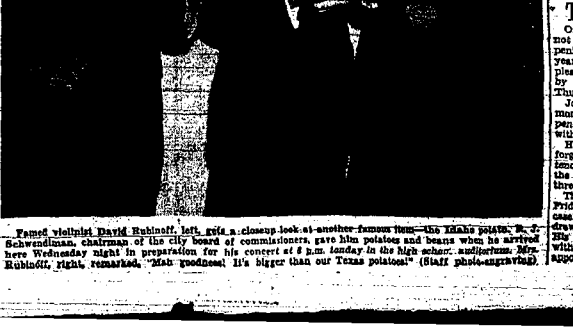

The famed violinist played two selections at each school Thursday morning in addition to his concert which starts at 8 p. m. Thursday at the high school.

Rubinoff's concert will feature two classical selections, The Warsaw concerto and Chopin's Polo-

6 Teen-Aged Persons Hurt In Smashups

...Six teen-aged persons were injured in two separate automobile accidents between Twin Falls and Kimberly Wednesday night, one mile north of Kimberly. Their injuries, ranging from cuts to broken bones, were treated at Kimberly.

Those involved and their injuries are:

Shirley Craner, 15, Artesian, passenger in the Ford, nose broken in two places.

Mary L. Embree, 17, route 2, Twin Falls, driver of a 1939 Dodge coupe, broken right ankle.

The fronts of both cars were demolished to the point where it was considered it would cost more to repair them than they were worth.

A state patrolman and Kimberly police who investigated said Miss Embree was traveling east on U. S. highway 30 and, instead of turning south with the highway toward Kimberly, started to cut across the opposite lane of traffic to continue east on a county road. The car driven by Sears was rounding the curve turning toward Twin Falls when the crash occurred.

Speeder Pays Fine; Driver Facing Trial

A man charged with reckless driving pleaded guilty in justice court Wednesday and another charged with speeding was fined $15 and $3 in costs in police court.

Glen D. Wilson paid a fine of $15 and $3 costs for going between 55 and 60 miles per hour on Addison avenue west. He was arrested by city officers at 6 a.m. Wednesday.

A. E. Harris posted a $50 bond when he pleaded not guilty of reckless driving. He was reported by a citizen who said the violation occurred on highway 50 four miles east of Twin Falls. A warrant was issued and Sheriff Jesse Carlton arrested Harris.

Lee Newberry, Castleford, victim of an accident Tuesday afternoon two and one-half miles west of Five Points west, Thursday was reported in good condition at Magic Valley memorial hospital. His physician listed injuries as a severe head injury, a fractured right kneecap and possible internal injuries. Driver of the car in which Newberry was riding, Fred Cecil Wells, 19, Castleford, is serving a five-day sentence for reckless driving. Another passenger, W. A. Edwards, also Castleford, pleaded guilty Wednesday morning in justice court to being drunk on a public highway and was fined $25 and $5.40 costs.

Meanwhile at Burley, the reckless driving case against Ethel L. Bonner, filed in probate court last week, was withdrawn on petition of the complaining witness, Probate Judge Henry W. Tucker reported.

Vern Barnard, 230 Lincoln street, paid a fine of $10 and $3 in costs when he appeared in Twin Falls police court Tuesday and pleaded guilty of speeding. He was cited Monday by city officers and charged with going in excess of 45 miles per hour.

The President also warned that "the major impact of the military buildup on our economy is still to come."

"Our planned expansion of defense production will not reach its peak for at least a year—and the inflationary pressures brought on by the defense effort likewise have not reached their peak."

Hardest Part Ahead

He said it is the "blunt fact . . . that the hardest part of the job still lies ahead."

He said that any let-down now would be "foolhardy." But he added that if the United States "keeps its efforts toward world peace proves successful, within two or three years we should be able to close the inflationary gap by producing enough civilian goods to match the buying power of business and consumers."

Taxes Are Subsidies

He noted that the inflationary buying wave which swept the nation last fall had died down as the credit, price and wage controls took hold. But he feared this was only a "breathing spell" which would not last.

Mr. Truman's recommendation for freezing farm parity for a year at a limp was forecast yesterday.

New Office in State Seeking Schools' Help

The questions to be asked deal mostly with personality problems and characteristics.

The new office in conjunction with the state department of law enforcement will be in charge of Mahlin S. Hansen.

Mr. Hansen, a teacher in Filer schools for several years, has made a special study of the problems coming under the attention of the office of exceptional education. He is ready is well known in southern Idaho for his work along these lines. Last year he was graduated from Yale university's summer school on the study of alcoholism.

"Idaho has finally joined the steadily growing list of states which are attacking these problems on a scientific basis," said Mr. Hansen. "While jail and prison sentences are often necessary for offenders in which these problems are involved, it has been definitely established that such punitive measures are not the solution. The cause is much more deeply rooted. And that is our purpose in our new department of exceptional education—to find the fundamental cause of these troubles, instead of fighting their advanced symptoms."

Mr. Hansen also urged all the sheriffs and school officials in Idaho to cooperate fully in this pre- [illegible] work with the student questionnaire.

"It will be the basis on which we hope to get highly worthwhile results later on," he said.

He said he also had strings on Maj.-Gen. Courtney Whitney, whom he referred to as MacArthur's press secretary, but would not pull these either. He is glad to have Whitney talk, he continued.

Boy Runs Away From Tourist to Escape Penalty

MURTAUGH, April 26—To avoid punishment for wrongdoing, a 12-year-old Florida boy ran away from his parents who were living along highway 30 one mile south of Murtaugh at 7 p.m. Wednesday and was not caught until Thursday morning.

David Bancroft, 12, who apparently does not respond too well to parental authority was found at 8 a.m. at the Justin Kleinkopf ranch after having been missing all night. He was barefooted when he left the automobile and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Bancroft, Lakeworth, Fla., first believed he would return of his own accord. About three weeks ago he ran away from home, his parents said, and was gone 10 days.

The family was driving along highway 30 with David and his brother, Billy, 14, in the rear seat. The two boys began wrestling and their father tried to stop them, nearly wrecking the car in the process. He stopped to punish David but the boy took off through the fields in the direction of the Twin Falls canal.

When David did not return a search was started for him. Assisting were Neil Orisham and Earl Wright.

Board May Get Student Decision

WASHINGTON, April 26 (UP)—House and senate conferees on a new draft law agreed today to give local draft boards the final say on college deferments—regardless of scholastic national college deferment tests.

The tests will go ahead as planned, and draft officials expect most local boards to abide by them. But under today's actions by the conferees—certain to be ratified by house and senate—this will not be mandatory.

The conferees, working out a compromise between differing house and senate draft bills, rejected a senate-approved proposal to defer annually for college training 75,000 draftees who have completed four months' service.

Youth in Burley Is Burned as Gasoline Fire Ignites Clothing

BURLEY, April 26—Kenneth Wells, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Parke, Burley, is improving in the Cottage hospital following burns received Monday while cleaning a paint brush near his home.

The junior high school student was cleaning the brush with gasoline near a garbage can in which there was a fire. Although the fire was out, live coals still were smoldering in the can.

As Kenneth shook the gasoline from the brush some of it sprayed into the can and ignited. Sparks flew to the lads clothing, setting fire to it. Kenneth stepped back, beating the flames from his clothes, and tipped over the can containing the gasoline. In an instant he became a flaming torch.

Running and screaming towards the street he attracted the attention of Clem Lambert as the latter emerged from a grocery. Lambert chased the youth and tackled him to bring him to the ground.

Meanwhile the boy's step-father, who became aware of the screams, saw what was happening from an upstairs window. Snatching up a blanket he rushed to assist Lambert. Together the two men smothered the flames with the blanket.

Hospital officials said Kenneth was burned seriously on one arm and about the back.

Federal Jobs Boost, Farm Decline Cited

POCATELLO, April 26 — While Uncle Sam was hiring over four civilian workers a minute per working day last February, farm employment plummeted to a four-year low for that month, John H. Webb, secretary, Idaho Farm Bureau federation said here today.

Webb explained his statement was based on reports from the joint congressional committee on reduction of nonessential federal expenditures and the USDA bureau of agricultural economics.

2,200 per Day Raise

Senator Byrd, D., Va., chairman of that joint congressional committee, reported recently the government civilian payroll increased 2,200 a day for February, while BAE figures show a 400,000 decrease in farm labor when February, 1950, is compared with the corresponding month in 1951.

"The federation is not criticizing the hiring of civilians for necessary defense purposes," Webb explained. "But if America is to have the things she needs to support national defense and the economy, there is a limit to the siphoning of the productive manpower pool to fill unproductive jobs, whether they be in government or elsewhere.

3-Year Trend

"Farm employment has continued its downward trend in almost every month for the past three years," he pointed out. He called attention to the tremendous strides made by farmers during recent years in increasing production per man, and said "if they are given the necessities further production increases may be made."

"Although acceleration of mechanization on the farm is imperative under current circumstances if farm production is to be maintained," the official warned, "keeping men on the farms to run those machines is just as important."

WE MUST BE FIRM

Reports drifting in from U. N. circles and certain capitals abroad disclose some opinion that General MacArthur's removal might make this the right time for new peace overtures to the Chinese communists in Korea. But the American government reportedly believes this is not the psychological moment for such gestures.

In the first place, all aside from the MacArthur angle, the U. S. bargaining position is not as strong as it may be later. The Chinese appear to be mounting a big offensive, probably the greatest they have planned since they entered the Korean war. Unless and until that expected drive can be met and contained by U. N. forces, the Chinese are not likely to listen to talk of peace.

So long as they retain any hope of pushing us into the sea they will not be receptive to a settlement. But if we set the reds back on their heels and decimate their armies severely in the process, they might be glad to get the kind of peace we'd offer, namely, one which would propose not the slightest reward for aggression.

Secondly, sound diplomatic psychology argues strongly against any peace ventures close on the dismissal of MacArthur.

The general is an advocate of broadening the war to include the bombing of Manchuria and use of Chiang Kai-shek's nationalist armies to invade the Chinese mainland. Some who disapprove of his removal declare therefore that it means a softening of America's attitude toward communism in Asia.

But competent reporters assert that neither the President nor the state department has any intention of embarking on a peace campaign at this time.

The differences between MacArthur and his superiors were not over whether to combat communism energetically or not. The divergence was over how and where to fight it.

It would be most unfortunate were this country now to do anything that suggested a weakening of this resolve. For the government would then appear to confirm the notion that only MacArthur is a champion of stout resistance.

No one can foretell what pressures may be brought upon this country by foreign governments eager to bring about peace in Korea. But whatever their strength, those pressures ought to be fended off by the United States.

The only peace we want in Korea is one which will assure to the Koreans their freedom and their security from future attack. And that kind of settlement can't be born out of any show of weakness, however faint. It can only spring from a demonstration of undaunted strength, both on the battlefield and in the council chamber.

EMBARRASSING

The tragedy of the circumstances surrounding Gen. Douglas MacArthur's retirement from active service is that it will deprive the administration of his superior military knowledge and experience.

Although he is entitled to an office and staff at the Pentagon, it is doubtful if MacArthur will use them, or resume relations with the top men in the defense department. It would be embarrassing to him and to them, for he has outranked them all at one time or another in his career.

Moreover, inasmuch as his general views on a national defense policy seem to run counter to his, at least officially, it would be rather difficult for him to cooperate with them. It is also doubtful whether President Truman would relish the idea of having our former far eastern commander on the Washington lot.

Another factor that may keep MacArthur out of the defense setup is Democratic politicians' recognition that he must be "built down instead of up" between now and next year's presidential contest. His personality and his viewpoint constitute a threat to their party's success despite his disavowal of political aspirations.

The tearing-down process has already begun, although the oratorical detractors, with a few exceptions, are holding off until the welcome-home ceremonies have been concluded. Top names in the administration, of course, will not participate in the movement —at least not publicly—but it will have their sympathetic interest.

IN A NUTSHELL

Ernest Gross, U. S. representative at the United Nations, once scored a telling point about the U. N.'s operations. He was commenting on the views of some diplomats that above all the thing is to keep Russia at the conference table, no matter how obstructive her behavior.

He disagreed. The important thing, he said, is that the aims of the U. N. be served. It is no gain merely to have a satisfactory mechanism arrangement—all members present—if it by means nothing can be accomplished.

As everybody knows, the U. N. was at its best, really functioning as it was intended to, when the Soviet union was absent. It has never been the same since.

There's food for thought in this for those nations which insist the vital question is that everybody be on hand, even if that fact alone assures that the purpose of the gathering will be defeated.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—President Truman's demand that government agencies restrict non-military construction and activities to a minimum has been disregarded utterly by Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman. His power program's heavy drain on such scarce materials as copper and aluminum has raised protests before secret sessions of congressional committees and within the administration's national defense group.

Careful scrutiny of pending appropriation requests for expansion of the government's public power system discloses they total more than $900,000,000, and the completed cost will amount to almost $1,500,000,000. However, by using carry-over funds available under past year's appropriations, it is estimated possible construction will entail the expenditure of more than $2,000,000,000.

• • •

COMPETITION — Spokesmen for heavy industry have informed house-senate appropriation committees they cannot fill national defense orders, unless interior and agriculture agents defer building plans during the current emergency.

Another consequence of government competition in a tight market, according to representative private enterprise group—oil, railroad, steel, private power, shipping, communications—will be a terrific increase in the over all cost of rearmament.

Secretary Chapman maintains new public power projects are essential for national defense. He recalls private utility interests voiced the same protests early in World war I, insisting their system could supply the extra load of production, but even as severe shortages developed, especially in the northwest.

• • •

VIEWPOINT—However, only a few weeks before he assumed his present post, Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson declared existing hydroelectric facilities can meet present requirement with a safe reserve margin. It is understood he has not changed his viewpoint.

So far, he has not intervened in this squabble. As a loyal member of the Truman family, he apparently does not want to cause any embarrassment to the White House in this politically explosive field.

• • •

AGAINST—The latest Chapman decision to give concern to the makers of tanks, planes, electronic equipment and their associates, involves what they regard as "favoritism" toward the rural electrification administration, headed by Claude R. Wickard in the department of agriculture.

The individual in charge of allocating scarce materials is C. B. McManus, former head of the Southern company, a $500,000,000 private utility system. Some time ago he welcomed the government's participating in the power business, which stirred him against most of the other bigwigs of the industry.

• • •

RIVALS—It apparently gratified Secretary Chapman, for he soon named McManus as head of the defense emergency power administration. However the secretary of interior gave his "solemn word" there would be no discrimination in his treatment of private and public power rivals.

"I shall not use the defense powers entrusted to me," he said, "as a means of advancing public power development at the expense of private power development. Nor shall I permit private power interests to dominate public power."

• • •

BLOCKED—Chapman, a veteran new dealer from early Roosevelt days, has not kept his pledge, according to the industrialists now bombarding the White house, capitol hill and Wilson.

In accord with the cabinet member's original promise, McManus recently ruled the rural electrification administration must submit its requests for scarce materials to him, along with those of the private companies. It was his plan to process all of them in accord with emergency needs.

But Chapman blocked this program. Reversing the McManus decision without giving any explanation, the interior head insisted a lump allocation of copper, aluminum and other materials be made to REA, which would then distribute it among several hundred rural cooperatives financed by the Wickard agency.

• • •

EXPANDING—A minor item in the administration's public power budget suggests Chapman will not permit the rearmament emergency to prevent him from expanding generating and transmission systems in competition with that of private industry.

It consists of a request for $35,000 to finance a survey of New England's electric resources and needs. This represents Washington's first formal move to enter the utility field in this area, which is one of the few sections of the country where Uncle Sam has not set up a light-and-power shop.

It is understood that Leland S. Olds, former head of the federal power commission and a veteran crusader for the Chapman theory, will head the study, if congress authorizes it.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

TRUMAN'S POPULARITY

President Truman's popularity, as measured month by month by a national public opinion measuring agency, goes through an interesting rise and fall that seems to indicate somebody is fickle, the pollsters, the public or maybe Truman himself.

A month ago the President was revealed as being at the lowest point of his six year White House career in public esteem. His support had fallen to 26 per cent, his opposition had risen to 59 per cent and 15 per cent had no opinion. However new votes, just out but taken before the MacArthur ouster, showed a two per cent gain to 28 per cent approval, most of the real opposed, a few undecided.

We'll have to wait nearly a month for the next effort that will reveal him after MacArthur and presumably at another all-time low, perhaps in the low twenties. If it had been taken within 48 hours after the historic ouster of the general the President might have gone clear down into the bulb, as the measuring does on a very cold day.

At his peak in July, 1945 when the presidential goose hung extremely high and the cold war was only a small cloud on a distant horizon, Truman had the unrivaled approval of 87 per cent of his countrymen. Of course he was not that strong then or at any time now in terms of what he could do if an election were suddenly sprung. For many who approved then were Republicans who would have voted his way regardless, while many who disapprove now are Democrats who will stay with the party at the next and succeeding elections.

But Truman has sunk very low in the public esteem after rising very high, as any alert citizen knows without consulting anybody's poll. He is said to think he will come out of this slump as he did after a bad one in 1946, but that is doubtful, for public opinion has hardened on him as it had not done then.—Nampa Free Press.

IDAHO LITERATURE LISTED

All interested in Idaho literature will welcome the preliminary chronological checklist of Idaho writing just completed by H. A. Thompson, assistant professor of English at Northern Idaho College of Education, Lewiston. The list covers the literature of the territory and state from the dictionary of the Nez Perce language printed in 1862 to Idaho fiction of 1950. Closing of the college for lack of state funds to support it constrained the compiler to issue the work in mimeographed incomplete form as a preliminary list. It does not include, he explains, books about Idaho by nonresident authors.

It is the first checklist yet issued of Idaho literature and as such is valuable as a reference. The compiler recently used a "Map of the Literature of the Pacific Northwest," copies of which have been purchased by libraries in Washington, Oregon, Idaho and California. It is hoped that Professor Thompson may find it possible to complete his work and obtain its publication, though he may be attracted by teaching positions outside of Idaho.—Portland Oregonian.

POT SHOTS

SLIPS DON'T COUNT

Dear Pot Shots:

This is in the same category as a man stepping on a hoe or a rake and having seen retaliate by hitting him on the nose.

The other day I saw a man driving a stake with a heavy sledge. He really was laying it on when suddenly he fell to his knees.

The sledge, slipping from his hands, caused him to lose his balance and fall.

What happened to the sledge? It sprouted wings and flew 20 feet away.

Boy, was that guy mad!

MODERN VERSION

Dear Pot Shots:

I am going to let you in on a secret.

I have been shopping around and have seen minors come into a grocery store with a note for beer from their parents. I wonder if that is how the minors are getting beer for themselves.

Is that note legal? If not, I think it should be stopped.

Back in the days of saloons, we hear it was a common sight for a youngster to trot through the swinging doors carrying a pail to get filled with beer. Back in those days it was called "rushing the growler." And no notes.

ANENT MAIL

Dear Pot Shots:

Can't help thinking of how much nicer it would be if the mailman would be a little more careful about leaving other people's mail in our box. Then when we expect a letter from our boys and sweethearts who are in the armed forces we wouldn't be wondering if the mailman had left it in some other box.

"WASHINGTON CALLING" BY MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—No dramatist in his right mind would have arranged events as they fell out in the swirling rush of the past week. No audience sitting in a theater could be expected to believe in the coincidence of General MacArthur's entrance onto the stage and Senator Vandenberg's exit from it.

Marquis Childs

It was surely one of the strangest juxtapositions in all of American history. The senator from Michigan had much in common with the soldier from Bataan.

They shared a fondness for a purple style in both writing and speaking. Like MacArthur, Vandenberg was deeply aware of the currents of American history and of his own place in the American scene.

But at a turning point in Vandenberg's career he stood aside himself, from personal ambition, to take a course calling for sacrifice and denial. He chose to lead his party toward a bipartisan foreign policy of world cooperation.

In so doing he alienated some powerful Republicans both in and out of the senate. A skillful and tactful leader, he nullified their opposition on the basic issues of foreign policy. The burden of bi-partisanism was carried largely by Vandenberg and Vandenberg alone.

When, however, it came down to the senator's own destiny and the prospect that he might have a chance for the 1948 presidential nomination, these opponents made their resentment felt. All the little yipping voices were turned on to yap at the towering figure who had learned to look down philosophically on ambition and the scheming of the ambitious.

At one time Vandenberg had an almost rhapsodic admiration for MacArthur. In a magazine article in the spring of 1944, he poured out his praise on the general as a potential leader of the Republican party. But he must have known at the last that, whatever MacArthur's own vision of his role in the current controversy, many of MacArthur's ardent backers are using the general to thwart and sabotage everything Vandenberg stood for.

In the timing of Vandenberg's exit was another coincidence defying the dramatic unities. The Republican victories of last November, changing the ratio of the two parties in the senate, gave Sen. Joe McCarthy, Wisconsin, a place on the appropriations committee. Sitting on the subcommittee handling appropriations for the state department, he was in a position to operate what Sen. William Benton, Connecticut, said would become McCarthy's kangaroo court.

This prospect has filled state department officialdom from top to bottom with a sense of dread. They feared McCarthy's capacity to take information and language out of context in order to discredit the department further.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson, with his dignified bearing and his lawyer-like approach, either has been unable or unwilling to fight fire with fire.

• • •

A kind of defeatism has existed in the department's attitude to its abusers and attackers. Evidence of this is seen in such actions as the side-tracking of able career officer John Carter Vincent, now minister to Switzerland, who is being transferred to a post that does not require senate confirmation. Vincent himself would like to go before a senate committee and face those who accuse him of slanting China policy in favor of communists.

Several times Acheson has postponed his appearance before the appropriations committee. Outward events were sufficient justification, but the evil day was thereby put off. He was scheduled to go before the committee this week.

Now, by Vandenberg's death, the ratio in the senate changes again. Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Michigan, named a Democrat to the vacant seat. As the newest member, McCarthy inherently will be bumped off the appropriations committee. And Acheson will not have to face his chief tormentor.

Almost the last letters he wrote showed that Vandenberg had not yielded any of his determination to come back and fight for what he believed in. He had put far behind him the obvious and easy hallmarks of opinion polls and elections.

History may show that his long and incapacitating illness was more than any other factor responsible for the deterioration of the past year and a half. It was his voice of moderation and persuasion that was needed above all else.

The senator from Michigan was a patriot and a statesman. And those words out of the political vocabulary can be applied all too rarely today. If anyone should care

Reds Scrape To Gain Men In Big Drive

By HARRY FERGUSON
UP Foreign News Editor

As the first guns roared in the Chinese communist offensive Lieut.-Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said: "This may well be the decisive battle of the Korean war."

Every day it looks more like it. The communists have scraped the bottom of the barrel to mount this attack, Battlefield dispatches describe the communist attackers as one of the strangest looking armies in military history. Obviously there are more men than there is equipment.

Ferguson

Some of the communists are dressed in white Korean civilian clothes. Others wear the khaki uniforms of the South Korean transport corps from captured supply depots. Occasionally a Chinese soldier sticks startlingly like a GI in the clothing he has taken from prisoners of war.

Not Enough Rifles

The enemy doesn't have enough rifles to go around. Some communist units move to the attack armed with nothing but hand grenades. A grenade can do plenty of damage, but a soldier is helpless once he has exhausted his supply of them.

When Ridgway said this might be the decisive battle, he didn't mean the war automatically would be over when the battle was over. He meant that one side or the other was going to be hurt so badly it would be unable to recover and continue the war with any realistic prospects of success.

U. N. Supplies Plentiful

The U. N. eighth army can get plenty more guns, tanks and planes to replace whatever it loses in this battle. But, from all evidence, the communists can't.

There isn't a great deal of industry in red China and Russia has poured equipment into Korea ever since the war started. Even that has not been enough to supply all the troops for this offensive.

European Newspapers Reflect High Interest in U. S. Events

PARIS, April 26 (AP)—A general freedom, wealth, education, beauty and happiness should convince every American his country is the center of world interest.

The recall of Gen. Douglas MacArthur swept European front pages for days. The weight of American in world affairs hardly could have been made more evident.

The recent visit of President Vincent Auriol to the United States emphasized this new relationship. French newspapers and magazines print not only his daily doings, but reported everything Americans were doing around him.

What is true in France also is true elsewhere in Europe. The range of foreign interest in America is enormous. It runs from schools to race problems, from sex to cinema.

The same newspapers that, publish accounts of America's mounting armament production also report that American women lead lives of frustration and disappointment. It is a favorite theme of French writers that American women lead in sex.

Generally and emotionally, French writers say, American women are unhappy. But they do agree that American girls are pretty.

"Nowhere in the world," wrote Raymond Cartier in the magazine "Match," does there exist a creature more privileged than the American woman. Law makes her the equal of man but custom makes her the superior and the idolized. She can vote. She is eligible for all public employment. She may enter—and does enter—all the professions. She spends 80 per cent of the nation's income."

"Boys of 14 begin hunting money to spend on them. The husband finds a large share of the housework."

The primary thing wanted of an American husband, Cartier wrote, is that he shall be a "good provider" ...Much written of American thinking and acting is pretty savage. That is especially true of the communist press which can scarcely find enough bitter invectives. Never a good word is said in the communist press about that awful place across the Atlantic. There is considerable sharpshooting in the noncommunist press as well.

Calmer and more critical writers point out that one great reason for American preeminence now is that she has not stood still during the last 50 years while much of Europe has.

Many newspapers are sending their best men to America to report back what makes this country tick. They don't always find things to their liking.

Andre Siegfried, a writer for Figaro, reported "veterans receive from all sides indemnities, priorities and advantages of all sorts. Farmers receive guarantees, anything is done which will put more purchasing power in the hands of the consumer. The government is in the hands of a man, Truman, his wife, who knows well from experience, as did his master, President Roosevelt, where votes come from."

Demand Is Heavy For Farm Labor

Local labor trends generally followed the statewide trend in the last week, with demand still heavy in agriculture. Irrigators, married farm hands and general laborers are especially needed in this area, Ronald Culley, employment security agency manager here, said Wednesday.

Job listings totaled 230 with 86 agriculture and 144 in non-agricultural fields. Part-time day labor has been satisfied by night workers applying for odd jobs, Culley said.

Throughout the state the number of jobs available increased by 135 and now stands at 1,356. The increases were mostly in construction, lumbering, wholesale and retail trade and service industries. Openings declined in transportation, finance, insurance and real estate.

Inquest Planned In Parma Death

PARMA, April 26 (U.P.) — Canyon County Coroner John Alger said today an inquest would be held into the death of Mrs. Juanita Baldwin, 25, Los Angeles, who was killed yesterday when a car in which she was a passenger crashed into a culvert and turned over on the highway near here.

Her husband, Robert Malcum Baldwin, and Bill Chivrell, Southgate, Calif., driver of the car, were injured slightly.

Chivrell and his passengers were en route to Anchorage, Alaska, to begin new jobs, officers said.

The accident happened, officers said, when the car was trying to pass two trucks. One of the trucks started to pass the other just as Chivrell started to pass, the officers added.

New Records Set At Guernsey Sale

FILER, April 25—Two state records were broken at the Idaho State Guernsey sale, Col. Earl O. Walter, reported on his return here from Boise where he was auctioneer for the sale.

He said the top price of $1,750 was the highest ever paid in Idaho for a dairy cow. That amount was paid for a 2-year-old heifer which was sent to Arizona.

Seventeen cattle attracted prices of $1,000 or higher to bring the average for the top 20 to $1,120, the highest average for a dairy sale in Idaho.

Average price for the 31 cattle sold was $922. The animals ranged from heifers 8 months old to cows 6 years old. Cattle went to five states, Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, Oregon and Utah.

Sites Checked for 2 Entry Stations

BOISE, April 26 (AP) — Two possible sites for port-of-entry checking stations south of Twin Falls are under consideration.

A. P. Bunderson, state police superintendent, said one site is near Rogerson and the other near Sterwell. Negotiations for purchase have been started.

Bunderson inspected the sites Tuesday along with J. R. McCarthy, state law enforcement superintendent, and Tom Bell, building superintendent.

Bunderson said the stations could be completed in about 60 days after purchase.

Candidates of Club Selected For May Vote

New officers to head the Twin Falls Lions club during the coming year were nominated Wednesday noon at the regular weekly meeting of the service organization. The election has been set for May 3.

Nominations included Var. Cox and James C. Leighton, president; Paren Faler and Larry Wheeler, first vice president; Merwin Helmbolt and Vernon Riddle, second vice president; Karl Brown and Henry Wills, secretary; Harold Stearley and Viggo Nelson, treasurer; Don Bailey and George Scholer, Lion tamer; Robert Gilliam and Roger Marah, tail twister, and Uriel Simmons, William Langley, Earl Dahlstrom and L. W. Graves, directors.

President Victor Fifflet announced elections are being held a month early this year because of the early dates of district and national conventions. The district convention will be held June 1 and 2 at Sun Valley and the national convention is scheduled in July.

Fifflet appointed Richard Serpa and O. J. Bothne to represent the Lions club on the Sagebrush Stampede committee.

The president also announced next week's meeting will be a joint session with Kiwanis and Rotary clubs next Thursday noon. Gov. Len Jordan will address the three organizations.

Jay Merrill inducted Al Fox as a new member. A report was given on the club's Olvie Drama-Guild play-presentations and members discussed the possibility of continuing the series next season.

Grain Stocks for April 1 Reported Near Top Level

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP) — The agriculture department has reported that stocks of wheat in this country on April 1 were the third largest of record for that date.

They totalled 709,304,000 bushels compared with 664,889,000 a year ago and the record of 986,000,000 on April 1, 1943.

Consumption of this grain—including exports—is expected to be larger than in the same period a year ago.

Consequently, officials said, wheat reserves at the close of the current marketing year, ending June 30, may be about the same as a year ago, or around 636,000,000 bushels.

These reserves will help provide ample supplies for domestic needs and for sizable exports in the coming marketing year although this year's production is expected to be cut by dry weather and insects in the southern great plains.

Stocks of corn—the major livestock feed grain—also were the third largest of record for the April 1 date. They totalled 1,879,887,000 bushels compared with 2,016,626,000 a year ago.

The city collected $28 in overtime parking fines and $4 in improper parking fines Wednesday.

Paying $1 each for overtime parking were Dennis Bolton, Mrs. O. M. Thurman, Lee Ennis, Ray Koch, Ray Holmes, Harry E. Davine, B. M. Callen, Mrs. Otto Fowler, Mrs. E. W. McRoberts, Helen Tench, Robert Curl, Bob Amende, George Herrick, Helen Carter, Bob Culbertson, Gloria Eslinger, Grover Beam, Sylvia Cunningham, Lynn Rogers, Guy Nelson, Mrs. Roy Larsen, Judd Auto Parts company, Mrs. D. F. Betts, Lyle O. Smith, Jack Gentry, Bobby Denton, Mrs. Barbara Showalter and Cinder Products company.

Swift and company and W. R. Steele paid $2 each for improper parking.

Broken Leg Is Not Deferment, Inductee Finds

POCATELLO, April 26 (U.P.) — Not even a broken leg can keep an inductee out of the army.

That lesson was learned by Max Johnson, Salt Lake City. He was en route to Ft. Lewis, Wash., when his train stopped at Pocatello. He decided to take a breather and stroll into downtown Pocatello.

At a busy intersection, Johnson was struck by a car and knocked to the pavement. At Pocatello hospital, an attending physician treated him for a fractured leg.

A short time later, this time toting a heavy cast, Johnson was on the train headed for Ft. Lewis.

Said the doctor, "He was perfectly capable of traveling and there would have been enormous red tape involved in staying here. So we sent him on his way. He can recuperate at the army camp."

Inspection Ends For T. F. Guard

Federal inspection of Idaho national guard units ended here Friday when headquarters and headquarters company, 116th armored cavalry regiment, was inspected by Maj. L. F. de Leadernier, inspector general's department, sixth army.

The unit received an excellent rating. It is commanded by Capt. William B. Thomas and WO (jg) Clifford Roth, administrative assistant.

The inspecting officer commended the unit for care of equipment and said he was impressed with the instruction procedures of the unit.

Instruction personnel are First Lieut. George Taylor, Second Lieut. John E. Rogers, WO (jg) W. V. Long and Sgt. 1/c Jack Dalton.

Weather Blocks Lost Plane Hunt

SALT LAKE CITY, April 26 (AP) —Low clouds and light showers hampered a search for a light plane missing today on a flight from Las Vegas, Nev., to Salt Lake City.

The plane, piloted by R. H. Patterson, Salt Lake City, left Las Vegas at 8:56 p. m. yesterday and was scheduled to arrive here at 8:35 p. m. Patterson was believed to have been accompanied by one passenger.

The air route traffic control center at Salt Lake City said Patterson had four hours supply of fuel when he left Las Vegas. He was en route to Salt Lake City from Los Angeles and had stopped to refuel at Las Vegas.

Revision Ordered On Highway Plan

BOISE, April 26 (AP)—Plans must be revised for rebuilding a section of the Blackfoot-Arco highway.

Rotary Seeks Help to Open Ball Program

The Twin Falls Rotary club decided Wednesday to contact other city organizations here in an effort to organize a baseball league for boys between the ages of 9 and 12.

The action was taken following a discussion of organization possibilities by Merritt Greeling. He said the league would not be restricted to boys of any race, creed or color.

The league would attempt to fit the city recreation program, he said. Leagues begun in other cities are thriving, attending physician treated him for a fractured leg.

Cost of maintaining the league after the first year would be approximately $250. He presented a film, "Little League Baseball," illustrating the league organizational plan.

It was announced Rubinoff would present several concerts in area schools before his concert here Thursday. He will be presented at the Kiwanis club luncheon by the Rotary club.

Program chairman was Frank De Moss. Ray S. McCord, Bellingham, Wash., was a visiting Rotarian.

A plaque was presented Wilfong last night at a meeting of Gem county dairymen. He placed second last year.

U. S. Cash Asked For Experiments On Hybrid Onion

BOISE, April 26 (AP) — Gov. Len Jordan has asked that $9,000 be included in the U. S. department of agriculture budget for perfecting hybrid onions at the Parma experiment station.

The governor, in a letter to Secretary of Agriculture Brannan and members of the bureau of plant industry experiment staff at Beltsville, Md., said Idaho and its concerns have pioneered the field of hybrid onions.

"With Idaho able to offer the site, facilities and know-how for the program," the governor said, "we are asking the USDA to provide the funds to maintain a full-time scientist at Parma and to use the facilities in the development of a program which promises immense benefits to Idaho, the onion industry and the northern states and the nation."

The governor said the request was being made upon recommendation of the Idaho Potato Industry Coordinating committee.

Copies of the letter also were sent to Sen. Milton R. Young, R., N. D., and Rep. H. Carl Anderson, R., Minn., members of the house and senate agriculture committees.

Winter Losses Are Noted for State's Grains

BOISE, April 26 (AP)—Fall grains in Idaho are showing considerable winter damage and re-seeding has been started.

The season is a bit late and farm work is just getting started in some sections, the first of the weekly co-operative crop reports said.

Topsoils are dry and drying in most sections.

Frost during the past week-end did considerable spotted damage to fruit crops, but the amount is still to be determined.

Early seeded crops are starting slowly. Irrigation has begun in most sections.

Sheep and lambs in the early areas are on ranges and cattle are starting to move to ranges.

Despite the drop in temperatures at the end of last week, the average of 49.1 degrees for the week was 2.6 degrees above normal, the report said.

The report is prepared weekly throughout the growing season by the University of Idaho extension service, federal bureau of agricultural economics and the weather bureau.

Thinking Typewriter Shown To U. S. Newspaper Publishers

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP)—A typewriter that thinks was demonstrated yesterday to the American Newspaper Publishers association.

This machine types the same kind and size letters as your portable or office typewriter. Electric impulses change these letters into any size, any style of newspaper type you like. And it comes out, complete, on photographic film, ready for the engraved plate that will print your newspaper.

The typewriter would eliminate all type, all typesetters, all linotype machines, and other equipment involved in the casting of type. Some of these machines weigh thousands of pounds and cost thousands of dollars.

The typewriter weighs a pound and and a half. No figure on its cost was given.

The typewriter has seven little fingers, rods of metal, in its back. Each letter or character moves one or more fingers. The moving finger closes an electric switch, sending current into a calculating machine, or mechanical brain. What happens there is the same as when you dial a phone number, all done with the same kind of electrical gadgets.

Next step is transmission of this electrical control to a small whirling disc. On the border of the disc are eight circular rows of letters. The eight contain 16 alphabets and the characters such as commas, that go to make an alphabet complete for printing in English.

Each letter is transparent. A flashlight shines through whichever letter the typewriter chooses. Lenses focus this letter on photographic film, and that completes the job.

The apparatus attached to the typewriter to do all this is about the size of two family refrigerators.

The inventors are two Frenchmen now living in Cambridge, R. A. Higonnett and Louis Moyroud.

Bill for Free GI Insurance Becomes Law

WASHINGTON, April 26 (U.P.) — President Truman has signed into law a bill to give all servicemen free insurance of $10,000.

The program is permanent. It also is retroactive to June 27, when American troops were committed to the fighting in Korea.

Enactment of the new law terminates the national service life insurance (NSLI) program as millions of World war II servicemen knew it. No new NSLI policies will be issued. However, a veteran's rights in any existing or lapsed NSLI policy are protected fully.

NSLI Optional

Under the NSLI program it was optional whether servicemen took out government insurance, and they were required to pay regular premiums for it. As a result, many died uninsured.

Under the new program insurance is automatic and free. Men in service who already have NSLI policies can hold them and keep up their payments, or drop them until they leave service, re-instating them then.

No Double Coverage

Where the existing NSLI policy is less than $10,000, free coverage will be provided to make up the full amount. There can be no double coverage to provide insurance of more than $10,000.

Although the free insurance cannot be carried over into civilian life as NSLI policies could—servicemen will be entitled, within 120 days after discharge, to buy a new form of government insurance.

This will be term insurance, based on a new mortality table and with much lower premiums than were available under NSLI. The term policies must be renewed every five years at increasing rates.

BERLIN, Germany, April 26 (U.P.)—Prince charming has been felled by the hammer and sickle in communist East Germany.

Organized mothers of the communist regime voted unanimously yesterday to stop telling their children the traditionally accepted fairy tales. From now on, bedtime stories must be "progressive" and correspond to "really and the times."

The decision was taken by the "Democratic Women's league," representing all East German women's organizations.

Attorney for Aly Issues Statement

PARIS, April 26 (U.P.)—Prince Aly Khan, scoffing at rumors of an impending divorce, said through his lawyer today that actress Rita Hayworth will rejoin him in France this summer.

Attorney Pierre Denitot said reports of a possible divorce between the Moslem prince and his red-haired princess were "ridiculous . . . stupid . . . scandalous."

"They're only a publicity stunt—an attempt to exploit a temporary situation," the lawyer said. "The princess returned to the states for several months to keep her contract obligations with Hollywood."

Well-Deserved Credit Finally Arrives for Coast Guardsmen

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS

WASHINGTON, April 26 (U.P.)—The coast guard, which has done a half-for-leather job of protecting us in war and peace since 1790, has come into some well - deserved credit.

Herman Nichols

One is a book called "Sea, Surf and Hell." The other is a movie called the "Fighting Coast Guard," based on the book and produced by Republic pictures. It has its world premier here tonight.

The film follows the book closely. "Sea, Surf and Hell" contains 40 stories about the coast guard written by men who were aboard the vessels and watched the organization in action in World war II.

Capt. Samuel F. Gray, chief of the public information bureau, provided us with some interesting information on the fabulous men in the organization who man the ships and save lives.

The coast guard was formed under George Washington's administration. It was the brain-child of Alexander Hamilton, then secretary of the treasury. The new unit was known as the revenue marine. Today, the coast guard functions under the treasury department in time of peace and under the navy when the guns are barking.

At the start, the coast guard had only 10 vessels and for each the practical Hamilton engaged crews of "respectable characters."

Congress authorized one master for each cutter, not more than three mates, four mariners and two small boys to sweep out the cabins.

The masters got $30 a month, first mates $20, second mates $16, third mates $14, mariners $8, and the boys $4—plus "a lot of experience at sea."

All of the crew, including the kids, received rations.

These included, among other things, a half gill of rum, brandy or whisky, one quart of salt, two pounds of soap, and a pound of candles.

Hamilton had other regulations, to which the congress agreed. One was to "give the officers commissions that would not only induce fit men the more readily to engage, but which will attach them to their duty by a nicer sense of honor."

The secretary's original idea has been carried through the 161 years of coast guard history.

In case you haven't looked at the record recently, here are just a few of the things the professional coastguarders do to make life a little more pleasant for all of us:

They guard our coasts against smuggling; give weather information for ships and planes at sea; track and report icebergs and icefloes in sealanes; save something like 1,000 lives a year; serve as a fighting army in the navy in wartime; inspect and license merchant vessels and examine their crews to promote safety at sea; protect seals, whales, sponges, and migratory birds to conserve marine wildlife.

All of that and more, too.

Oil Industry's Aid Sought in Uranium Hunt

ST. LOUIS, April 26 (UP) — The atomic-energy commission asked the oil industry today to extend its exploration activities to include a search for uranium.

Dr. Phillip L. Merritt, assistant director of the AEC's division of raw materials told the American Association of Petroleum Geologists the oil industry should familiarize itself with the known occurrences of uranium.

He said the industry should carry "some type of counter" as essential equipment in all exploration parties, check sludges and cores of all drilling operations and pool its geological knowledge with that of the AEC.

5 Known Areas

Merritt described five areas throughout the country known to contain uranium deposits.

The largest potential sources presently known are the sedimentary deposits in the Colorado plateau area which includes the western third of Colorado, the eastern half of Utah and the adjoining northeast and northwest corners of Arizona and New Mexico, Merritt said.

Adjoining this rough circle is the Marysville area of central Utah, where uranium has been found in vein deposits.

Huge Potential

Merritt said marine sediments in numerous sections of the United State also present "huge potential reserves of uranium" which at present are extremely difficult to recover.

The highest uranium concentration in such geological formations has been found in the pliocene bone valley in central Florida and the permian phosphoria formations found in Wyoming, Montana and Idaho in an area describing a rough 100 to 150-mile diameter circle centered at Montpelier, Ida.

High grade uranium deposits also have gren found in black shales in central Tennessee and south-central Kentucky, Merritt said, and in precambrian black slates in the northern sections of Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Three Gooding Children Have Play House "Just Right Size"

GOODING, April 26—There probably never has been a little girl, nor a little boy for that matter, who didn't dream about a play house built to scale with her—or his—size. Not all children are lucky enough to have such a dream come true but the three children of Carolyn and Joe McKinney are living in a Lilliputian world of their own.

Built in his spare time at a cost of $100 and many hard knocks on the head since Joe, sr., is a tall man, it is difficult to tell who had reaped the most pleasure from the deal—the children and their dog, "Butch," or their daddy.

The little mansion, just completed and already occupied, is equipped with an inter-com system with the big house. When the telephones at Bliss were cut over to the dial exchange McKinney fixed up an old magneto type phone and installed it in the little house.

The girls, Donna and Carol, have slept in the house at night and Joe, jr., and "Butch" have had their turn. The bed is the only piece of furniture not minature in size. The table and chairs and other furnishings are on a smaller scale. The windows are hung with cheery tie-back curtains and a rug is on the floor.

The house number is located on the porch post and electric lights are in use.

Delores Price, accompanied by Nedra Knight, sang her music festival songs in which she received highest rating.

Machines Are Sought by Tax Chief of State

BOISE, April 26 (UP)—State Tax Collector F. G. Neill will seek to win approval for further mechanization of equipment in his department.

"I feel we can save more man hours of labor and achieve more efficiency and economy," he said yesterday.

The merger of the various tax units under the tax collector's office, Neill said, has resulted in savings to the taxpayer. He said the opening and pre-sorting of income tax returns was completed on April 3, two weeks ahead of the usual time. And for the first time in 12 years, gasoline tax refund claims for non-highway use are current.

"These accomplishments," he said, "have been made possible by consolidation of tax units and consequent shifting of personnel in order to handle peak loads as they develop.

"In addition, it has not been necessary to hire the usual number of extra employes formerly required to handle income tax matters."

Hardwood veneers for fine furniture and decorative panels are made from trees imported from all parts of the world.

2 Are Arraigned On $1,106 Holdup At Bakery Firm

POCATELLO, April 26 (AP)—Two men were arraigned yesterday on charges of armed robbery in connection with a $1,106 holdup of the Eddy Bakers corporation.

Martin Sather, manager of the bakery, said two armed men walked in on the bakery yesterday morning while he was talking on the telephone. Sather said he told the party to whom he was talking to call the police.

Then the men picked up a bank bag containing more than $1,000 in currency and scooped up more cash from bank deposits being prepared.

The men were arrested in less than 30 minutes after the robbery.

They waived preliminary hearings and were bound over to fifth district court for trial.

Rain May Hit Forest Fires In Northwest

By The Associated Press

The possibility of showers Thursday brought hope on news battling scattered forest fires on coastal areas of the Pacific northwest.

But inland, two new fires were reported in northern Idaho where humidity was still very low.

The Kaniksu national forest headquarters at Sandpoint sent a three-man crew with pumper and hose to fight a blaze on Rapid Lightning creek Wednesday, where $20,000 worth of poles decked in that area by Ray Stevens, logging contractor, were reported in danger.

Caused by Slash Burning

Crews were battling another fire near Naples. In both cases the fires were caused by slash burning operations which got out of control.

Officials warned that fire hazards at the lower elevations now are comparable to those ordinarily existing in late June or early July.

Kaniksu Forest Supervisor Percy Mells pointed out there has been no rain for 35 days. At the same time, cold nights have held back new growth on trees and bushes that would help serve as a damper on the blazes.

Humidity Rises

In northwest Oregon, rising humidity has enabled fire fighters to slow down the biggest of the fires, the 4,800-acre Tillamook burn fire.

In Washington, Mike Webster, deputy forest supervisor, reported four fires deliberately set west of Randle in the Elbe district. They covered 600 acres. All were controlled.

"Ike" Also Got in Stew Over Reich Action, Bradley Relates

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP)—Like General MacArthur at a later date, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was accused of interfering in a political problem—the capture of Berlin during World war II — Gen. Omar Bradley writes in his forthcoming book.

Eisenhower messaged Prime Minister Stalin, directly, about the plan to halt the allied armies on the Elbe river.

This message, and especially the decision, drew the wrath of Britain's fiery prime minister, Winston Churchill, Bradley says in the current installment of his book appearing in Life magazine.

"Although Churchill protested Eisenhower's radio to Moscow as an unwarranted intrusion by the military into a political problem, he reserved his angriest riluperation for the plan Eisenhower had proposed.

"The prime minister, according to Eisenhower, was 'greatly disappointed and disturbed' that SHAEF had not reinforced British Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery with American troops and pointed him toward Berlin in a desperate effort to capture that city before the Russians took it," Bradley writes.

The decision to stop at the Elbe, rather than to drive on into Berlin, was taken to avoid casualties, and to minimize the risk of an accidental collision between the allied armies, moving east, and the Russians, coming across Germany toward the west.

Bradley says Eisenhower asked him what the drive might cost, and that he estimated 100,000 casualties.

"'A pretty stiff price to pay for a prestige objective,' I said, 'especially when we've got to fall back and let the other fellow take over.'"

Even in the earliest contacts with the Soviet forces, in 1945, the Russians were suspicious and secretive, Bradley reports.

In one instance, he says a Soviet division was opposite an American division. The Soviet commander asked an American general whether "your people are digging in opposite us." In some surprise the American officer replied they were not; they considered the Russians as allies.

The red general then ordered his men to stop digging in, too.

Bradley says he personally showed a Russian field marshal the disposition of the American divisions when the armies finally met. The marshal, he writes, was extremely startled.

The fourth and concluding installment of the book, "A Soldier's Story," recounts the movements during the battle of the bulge and the row over the allocation of command of some American forces to Montgomery.

Bradley says both he and the late Gen. George Patton, were prepared to resign if they were ordered to continue under Montgomery after the bulge fighting ended.

Second Annual Exhibit Opens For Art Club at High School

The second annual art exhibit sponsored by the Twin Falls high school Palette club opened Thursday afternoon in the basement of the public library, Jacqueline Arnold, sponsor of the club, announced.

Approximately 200 works of art have been submitted by high school students for the four-day exhibit. Entries include paintings in oil, watercolor and tempra; drawing in charcoal, chalk and pencil; ceramic sculpture and textile paintings.

Art subjects vary from still life to portraits. A handicraft display is included with copper and leather work of students on exhibit.

Persons visiting the exhibit will ballot on favorite works in each division and awards will be made to winners at the annual awards assembly next month.

Exhibit hours Thursday and Friday are from 4 to 6 and 7 to 9 p.m.; Saturday, 1 to 6 p.m., and Sunday, 2 to 5 p.m.

Members of the Palette club, with Norma Rees as president, are in charge of all arrangements for the show.

Warning Sounded On Training Date

WASHINGTON, April 26 (UP) — Most ex-servicemen have only until July 25 to begin training under the GI bill of rights, the veterans administration said today.

A veteran in school or training by that date may continue until he completes all the education he is entitled to get with government aid, the VA said. However, he must stay in school "continuously," except for regular vacations or interruptions beyond his control, such as illness or re-entry into military service.

Control Eased on Canning Materials

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP)—The government loosened controls today on jars, glasses, lids and jar rings used by housewives in canning fruits and vegetables.

The order, effective today, would allow wholesalers and retailers to fix ceiling prices on such items by adding to current costs the average percentage markups they used from May 24 to June 24, 1950.

The office of price stabilization said the order was needed "to start the flow of these goods to housewives." Since the items are sold mostly during spring and summer, OPS said, the general price freeze caught most dealers with price lists which failed to reflect increased costs that occurred during the latter part of 1950.

Mississippi River Crest Nears City

MUSCATINE, Ia., April 26 (UP)—The Mississippi river's record flood crest swept down on Muscatine today in what was expected to be the climax of its spring flood rampage.

The level of the river held steady at 20.7 feet and officials looked for it to creep slowly upward to a crest of 21.1 feet this afternoon.

The levees were patroled by 300 national guardsmen and scores of volunteers. The sandbagged dikes were reported "in pretty good shape," but authorities couldn't say whether they would hold.

Violin Artist Arrives Here For Concerts

naise, which he scored for violin solo performance.

When Chopin, moved by the treachery and tyranny confronting his native Poland, wrote the immortal Polonaise, his brilliant technique was limited to the piano.

By arranging it as a violin solo, Rubinoff fulfills a promise made many years ago to the dean of American music—a pledge made as a child to Victor Herbert who discovered him in Warsaw and brought him to this country.

With the war-heightened popularity of the Warsaw concerto, Rubinoff frequently was asked to play it and the artist had a hard time explaining no arrangement for the violin existed. Then he arranged it as a violin solo.

Other selections expected to be heard in his concert include the full score of Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue, Intermezzo from the motion picture of that name and Debussy's Clair de Lune.

On the light side are his own "Fiddling the Fiddle" and a nine-variation arrangement of "Don't Fence Me In."

CHURCHILL TO SPEAK

WASHINGTON, April 26 (UP)—Winston Churchill, former British prime minister, will speak to Washington news correspondents May 11 during his scheduled visit to this country.

Railroad Pay Hike Okayed

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP)—The government has poked a hole in its own wage ceiling.

Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston approved a six-cent hourly increase for 1,000,000 non-operating railroad workers to offset a cost of living rise.

They would have been entitled to only two or three cents if the government's 10 per cent ceiling on wage increases had been applied tightly.

But an "escalator" clause in their contract called for the six cents, because living costs had gone up.

Johnston bowed to the arguments of a three-man panel that collective bargaining in the railroad industry is "unique" and requires special handling. It takes longer to negotiate a contract because of "lengthy and cumbersome" procedures of the railway labor board act, said the panel, which was appointed by Johnston at President Truman's suggestion.

The 1,000,000 non-operating workers—clerks, mechanics, etc.—will begin receiving their six-cent hike next month. The increase becomes effective as of April 1, and all of the April boost will be added to May pay envelopes as rapidly as accounting machines can do the job, a spokesman for the carriers said.

Korea Force Of U. N. Now 550,000 Men

WASHINGTON, April 26 (UP)—The United Nations have about 550,000 ground, air, sea, supporting and police forces engaged in Korea.

Assistant Secretary of State Dean Rusk told the house appropriations subcommittee some two months ago that 250,000 American forces were in Korea. His testimony, made public last night, said the Americans plus 250,000 South Koreans amounted to 85 per cent of the U. N. forces.

13 Others Help

Rusk said 13 other U. N. nations have committed approximately 35,000 men, or 15 per cent of the force engaged. He added that talks were under way in various capitals to increase Korean war manpower through replacements or entirely new forces.

Rusk's figures totalled 535,000 men, but they included 100,000 South Koreans assigned to security forces such as police. Official sources indicated today replacements and new troops dispatched by the United States in the last two months boost the total to at least 550,000.

225,000 in Combat

On the basis of Rusk's estimates, unofficial estimates suggest that approximately 225,000 U. N. troops actually are considered to be front line fighters. Military rule of thumb is that at least one man is needed behind the lines to keep another man in action.

The prospect of other nations increasing their help was raised last night in an address by Assistant Secretary of State John B. Hickerson.

"A number of countries which do not yet have troops in Korea are now prepared to send forces," Hickerson said.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

The terrible stories printed in the newspapers about wayward children, committing crimes that shock the nation reflect a very small portion of our childhood and youth, most of whom are healthy, happy normal children. They make the mistakes natural to children, they get into controversies with their neighbors and perhaps their teachers, but they commit no crimes. On the whole, our childhood and youth stands head and shoulders above all records for health, ability and sound character.

About the others? We hate to see even one child commit a major crime. We feel ashamed that somebody been on the job at the right time that child would either have been in a safe place where he could not commit such an error, or be so trained that he would not. As things are it would be almost impossible to bring such a situation about but in my opinion we could do a great deal more than we do now to bring it about.

For a first step we could prohibit the exhibition of pictures that show men shooting guns at people, killing them as casually as one would smack a mosquito. There is a limit beyond which freedom of stage, screen and press should not go and the exhibition of pictures that accept murder as a casual gesture are outside that limit. Too many children are using real guns on real people.

Next, and on an equal footing with that idea, we should insist upon houses that really offer homes for children. A room and a half, two rooms and a half are not offering space for children to live in, or grow in, and we should make such changes in our economy as will allow homes for children. A good home does not breed delinquency.

We should keep schools, community houses and churches open all day and into the late evening so that children have safe, wholesome places to go to for recreation and education.

Meantime let us remember the fine work the great school system of the country is doing. Look at the reports that they issue, see the pictures of children handicraft at work. Note their absorbed, intelligent faces. Take heart when you read such a report as the schools of Chicago, Fort Wayne, Indianapolis, various other towns and cities send out and strengthen their hands, spread their influence and give the schools of the country the necessary money to carry on until there are more of the high lights and fewer of the newspaper reports of lost children.

All normal children want to be good children. Too often it is society's fault that they fail. If we spent the same effort on the education of children, on their welfare, that we do for wars, what a glorious army of youth we could rear.

Lying is a bad habit and it must be cured. Dr. Patri advises parents to encourage children to tell the truth in his daily feature. Write Dr. Angelo Patri, care this paper, and send 10 cents in coin to him, c/o Times-Herald, Dept. 99, Station D, New York 19, N. Y.

Teams Move Onto Capital to Renew Opening Contests

Boise's surprising Pilots turned the tables on the Twin Falls Cowboys here Wednesday night to defeat the locals 3-2 and gain a split in the two-game opening series of the 1951 Pioneer league season. Twin Falls edged Boise 2-1 Tuesday in the opener. Manager Jim "Jeep" Turner and his squad will pull stakes Thursday and move to Boise for another two-game series opening the home season for the Pilots. The Cowboys return here Saturday to face the Salt Lake City Bees.

Hits were a scarce item for both clubs, but four Twin Falls errors gave Boise two unearned runs and the Pilots' victory margin. Two Boise errors gave the Cowboys one unearned run.

The Cowboys outhit Boise 5 to 4, but didn't draw the blows when it counted. Eleven men were left stranded on the base paths.

Jim Valentine, a veteran with the Pilots, connected with a single in the eighth inning to give Boise its margin. He brought in Ken Jensen who had drawn a walk as the first man up.

Boise broke the scoring ice in the fourth inning with two runs on no hits. Jim Gregory started first when outfielder Woody Held dropped his high fly ball. Bob McCaffery then threw wild on the next play when Valentine bounced a fast ball to the pitcher's mound. McCaffery's throw, attempting to catch Gregory in a run-down at third, bounced into leftfield; Gregory scored easily.

Valentine followed him home on successive infield outs by Tom Lloyd and Eddie DeMotte.

The Cowboys came back to tie the score with a pair in the sixth. Manager Turner, in picking up Twin Falls' first ball, singled but was forced at second by Held. Lou Vitous walked and Jim Goff singled to score Held. Vitous, who won Tuesday night's game, then went down in order with fly balls to left.

The loss was a tough one for McCaffery, who limited the Pilots to four hits and walked five. The Cowboys received nine walks from Boise's Jim Miller, but could collect only five bite before a slim crowd of 407 in the cool night. A brisk wind made fly balls tricky to handle.

The Cowboy infield played brilliant early-season ball, helping McClafferty out of pinches with four doubleplays. Several fielding "gems" were turned in by both Bukowatz at shortstop and Trower at second.

Twin Falls features Boise's ace righthander, Billy Franks, Thursday night in Boise. Trower will counter by sending lefty Donald Goode, a prominent Boise citizen, to the mound.

Dusette Wins Mat Tourney In Easy Style

Smiling, debonair George Dusette took the $200 cash tournament prize without much trouble in the wrestling matches Wednesday night.

Tiring of his favorite hold, a full nelson, he first eliminated popular Pierre Labelle and then forced Don Sugia, talented Japanese grunt and groan artist, to give up. In between his first and last bout Dusette eliminated Buzz Jones with a surfboard hold.

Dusette probably it one of the strongest grapplers ever to wrestle in Twin Falls. Repeatedly he would permit opponents to secure holds and then, with the use of strength alone, would proceed to break the holds. This was particularly true in his bout with Jones.

Smiling most of the time, except when Sugia had him in a tight spot, Dusette waltzed through his three matches by taking it easy and letting his opponents work themselves into a lather trying to budge him.

At the beginning of the card the seven wrestlers appeared in the ring and drew numbers for pairings. In the first match Carl Roberts was matched against Milt Olsen. Roberts won the 15-minute affair with a decision. During the bout the two wrestlers tried each other with double head scissors holds and rolled all over the mat.

The second match was between Dusette and Labelle. Buzz Jones and Jack Carter were paired in the third event and after considerable horseplay which took the wrestlers out of the ring on three occasions, Jones won with a decision. Sugia, having drawn a bye, did not wrestle in the first go-round.

In the semi-finals Roberts and Sugia introduced themselves to each other with a series of drop kicks and body slams. In many respects this event was the highlight of the card. The two wrestlers spent most of their time tossing each other around. They, too, carried their activities into the ringside as did Jones and Carter. Sugia won the event with a head lock.

Cowboys Sign New Hurler

The Twin Falls Cowboys signed Dick Aubertin, a veteran right-handed pitcher, Wednesday night as the club prepared to leave for Boise, Business Manager Jack Radtke announced.

Aubertin, described as one of the finest prospects in the New York Yankee farm system, has "blazing speed, good control and lots of stuff on the ball." He comes to Twin Falls from Beaumont, Tex., of the class AA Texas league.

Deagle to Defend Big Six Crown In Saturday Meet

BOISE, April 26 (UP)—Saturday's blood-lighted Big Six conference high school track meet at Boise junior college field will find only one defending champion in competition.

He is Dale Deagle, Twin Falls high school's speedy short distance runner. Deagle won the 100-yard dash in the Big Six track show last year when he covered the distance in 10.4.

Boise, Nampa, Idaho Falls, Twin Falls and Caldwell will be making an attempt to lift the crown from Pocatello.

It will be the first time that a track meet has been held under the lights in Boise.

Shoshone Wins North Side Baseball Crown

The Shoshone Indians captured the north side class B baseball championship Wednesday afternoon by walloping Richfield 19-4 at Shoshone. In other action Hailey waxed Dietrich in a doubleheader, 21-2 and 15-1, and Twin Falls' junior varsity defeated Murtaugh 8-7.

Coach Bob Sherman's Shoshone team, defending class B district champions, will meet the winner of the west side league in a regional district playoff. Hailey, by winning its doubleheader, placed second in the north side baseball race.

Big Chuck Bate poled three triples in four times at bat to lead the Shoshone attack on Richfield. Wernke added a triple and a double. Hahn, Shoshone hurler, struckout 15 Richfield men and walked five while limiting the visitors to five hits.

The Indians started the game with five runs in the first inning and seven in the second.

Jay Buhler was the star of Hailey's double win over Dietrich. The outstanding athlete hurled three first game, limiting Dietrich to one hit, while hitting a homerun and a triple. He came back in the second game to collect a triple, double and a single in three times to bat.

Broyles hit a homerun with two men on base in the first game for Hailey.

The nightcap was called at the end of two innings with Hailey in front 15-1.

Twin Falls' junior varsity had to push three runs across the plate in the last inning to nip Murtaugh 8-7. The Murtaugh crew started the game with three in the first inning and four in the second. Twin Falls dented the gap with five runs in the fifth.

Mustangs Bow 5-1 to Tough Montana Foes

GREAT FALLS, April 26 (AP)—John Hahn allowed the Billings Mustangs only three hits Wednesday night in pitching Great Falls to a 5-1 baseball victory. The win gave the Electrics a sweep of a two game series, the first of the 1951 season.

Bill Stoops brought in three runs for the locals in the third inning with a powerful—but not necessary for the victory—homerun.

The teams move to Billings to open another two game stand Thursday night.

Rex Barney Asks For Retirement

BROOKLYN, April 26 (AP)—Pitcher Rex Barney, once regarded as a top prospect by the Brooklyn Dodgers, asked Wednesday night to be placed on the voluntarily retired list.

"I know that I cannot pitch for the Dodgers or any other major league club right now," the 26-year-old righthander wrote to Buzzy Bavasi, vice president of the Dodgers.

Barney pitched a no-hit, no-run game against the Giants three years ago.

"The rule which made it compulsory for me to stay in the major leagues after the war deprived me of a great chance, I think. I was never given an opportunity to gain minor league experience."

Another Player May Sue Baseball

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP)—Jim Prendergast, a Syracuse pitcher who was traded to Beaumont but did not report, said Wednesday he would file suit for $150,000 damages against the Syracuse club in a challenge of baseball's controversial reserve clause.

Prendergast formally retained Frederic Johnson, attorney for Danny Gardella in a similar suit against organized baseball, to take action for him. The Gardella case was settled out of court.

Johnson said he will charge that the reserve clause is monopolistic and violates anti-trust laws.

The reserve clause binds a player to one club until the player is traded or released.

Final Golf Clinic Held for Women

Thirty-six women took part in the final ladies' day golf clinic at the Twin Falls municipal golf course Wednesday. Manager Pro Joe Dungan announced. He said 80 women played during the day.

Polly McGinnis won A division play with 18 points in a tournament held in the afternoon. Terza Cutler won the B division with 14; Ruth Ann LeBaron, C division, 9; Mary Adams, D division, 8, and Shirley Blake, beginner's division, 6.

Next week's program will include a putting contest to be held on the practice green.

Shea Leads Yanks to 4-0 Win Over A's as Phils Edge Giants

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP)—Frank (Spec) Shea, erstwhile sore-armed righthander, took a long step forward on the comeback road Wednesday when he pitched the New York Yankees to a 4-0 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics. The shutout was the A's second in succession and the defeat their sixth in a row. The Yankees, in winning their fifth game at home without a loss, were hardly terrifying at bat. They were held to seven hits by lefty Alex Kellner but benefited by half a dozen walks. They picked up a run in the second inning, two more in the fourth and gained their final tally in the fifth.

The victory was Shea's first in the majors in nearly two years. He received credit for a game against the Boston Red Sox on April 30, 1949, when he hurled one relief inning. His last complete game in the big time was on Sept. 3, 1948, when he let Washington down with five hits.

The 23-year-old roly-poly pitcher, who was acclaimed "rookie of the year" when he won 14 games in 1947 and added two more in the world series against Brooklyn, showed a good fat ball as well as wide-breaking curves. His control was a bit off—he issued five walks and hit a batter—but he was able to get the ball over in the clutches.

The Philadelphia Phils made good use of only eight hits of their five hits to defeat the New York Giants 2-1, and swept the three-game series between the two National league contenders. The loss was the seventh in a row for the slumping New Yorkers.

Kenny Heintzelman, crafty left-hander, yielded eight hits and walked six, but was superb in the pinches, leaving a dozen Giant runners stranded on base paths. Twice the Giants loaded the bases with only one out, but the veteran Heintzelman escaped each time without a score against him.

The Chicago White Sox divided a doubleheader with the St. Louis Browns, winning the opener 8-6 and dropping the nightcap 7-4 in a contest played under the lights from the second inning on.

Rookie Tom Poholsky, aided by good defensive work, hurled the St. Louis Cardinals to a 4-0 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates. The young righthander gave up two hits over two walks. Stan Musial homered in the sixth for one of the Redbird tallies.

Sam Jethroe's ninth inning homer gave Jim Hearn and two out game the Boston Braves a 6-5 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbets field. Brooklyn had taken the lead in the eighth when Jackie Robinson, apparently caught in a rundown, was allowed to score from third after the umpires had ruled interference on the part of Walker Cooper, Boston catcher.

Ted Kluszewski, who barely has been hitting his weight, clubbed out a two-run homer in the eighth inning to give Cincinnati its second National league victory of the season, a 4-3 decision over the Chicago Cubs.

Lost Again

SALT LAKE CITY, April 26 (AP)—The scheduled Pioneer baseball league game here Thursday night was rained out for the second consecutive night.

So the Salt Lake City Bees and the Ogden Reds will shift to Ogden Thursday night in an attempt to start another two-game series.

As for Bee Owner Eddie Leishman, things could be worse. Although losing what was expected to be bumper crowds for the games here, the 1951 start can still be better than last year.

A year ago, the Bees and the Reds were rained out in their opener, April 29. They managed to shiver through a game April 30. But finally seven of the first 12 games were rained out. Ogden was harder hit. The Reds got in only two of their first eight games.

Little MacArthur Is Yankee Guest

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP)—Arthur MacArthur, 13-year-old son of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, went to Yankee stadium Wednesday and shook hands with an old friend—Joe DiMaggio.

The Yankee outfielder met the boy in Tokyo last year while visiting troop installations.

DiMaggio presented an autographed bat to the boy.

"Oh, Gee, is that for me?" the boy asked. "I thank you very much."

Dan Topping, Yankee president, gave a Yankee cap to Arthur, then the boy took a seat with Col. Sidney Hunt to watch the Yankees play the Philadelphia Athletics. He saw the Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers play last week.

WICHITA HIRES COACH

WICHITA, Kans., April 26 (AP)—The University of Wichita moved quickly to plug the gaps in its athletic staff, naming a Kansas All-American and coach—Ralph Miller—as head basketball mentor.

86 Cage Aces Selected by Pro Quintets

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP)—Eighty-six college basketball stars, headed by All-Americans Gene Melchiorre and Sam Ranzino, were drafted Wednesday by the 10 teams in the National Basketball association.

Melchiorre, a 5-8 ball of fire from *Bradley, was the No. 1 pick of Bal*timore, which has first choice in the regular draft. Ranzino, fifth ranking scorer among the major colleges last season, was the No. 1 selection of the Rochester Royals, league champions.

Other first choices were:

Tri-cities—Mel Hutchins, Brigham Young; Indianapolis—Marcus Freiberger, Oklahoma; Fort Wayne —Zeke Sinicola, Niagara; Syracuse —John McConathy, Northwest Louisiana; New York—Ed Smith, Harvard; Boston—Ernie Barrett, Kansas State; Philadelphia—Don Sunderlage, *Illinois; Minneapolis—Mey*er (Whitey) Skoog, Minnesota.

Skoog actually was the first collegian to be drafted. Each team was given the privilege of choosing any one player in its own territory instead of its No. 1 pick in the regular draft. All teams with the exception of Minneapolis which selected Skoog, passed.

The teams passed in inverse order to their finish in the standings during the regular season. Thus the picking order was Baltimore, Tri-Cities, Indianapolis, Fort Wayne, Syracuse, New York, Boston, Rochester, Philadelphia and Minneapolis.

The three other members of the Associated Press' All-America Kentucky's Bill Spivey, Kansas' Clyde Lovellette, and Temple's Bill Mikvy, are Juniors and could not be drafted.

Russets Edge Pocards 9-7 On Four Hits

POCATELLO, April 26 (AP)—Idaho Falls—last year's Pioneer league doormat—completed its opening of the 1951 season Wednesday night by trumping Pocatello 9-7 for its second straight win.

The Russets were outhit 10-4, but took advantage of the lack of control of three Pocatello pitchers who issued 13 free passes.

Game Commission Has Hunt Powers

BOISE, April 26 (AP)—The state fish and game commission has authority to refuse special hunt permits to those who were successful in the hunt the previous year.

Assistant Attorney General J. R. Smead said the 1951 legislature's repeal of the 1949 statute specifically banning successful hunters from participating in special hunts for the succeeding years did not preclude the commission from adopting such regulations if it wished.

Salvation Army Official to Be Here for Nursery Ceremony

Maj. Harry Larsen will arrive here Tuesday to take part in groundbreaking ceremonies for the new Salvation Army nursery wing building to be erected at 801 Second avenue north. He is Salvation Army divisional young people's secretary for Oregon and southern Idaho.

Lieut. Rea Montgomery, local commanding officer, said the ceremony's time and participants will be announced later. He said the ceremony will culminate five years of effort by the local advisory board to obtain a satisfactory plan and building procedure.

Don Bailey, advisory board chairman, will be in charge of arrangements. Special recognition will be given the work performed by advisory board members, H. R. Grant, O. P. Duvall, Lem Chapin and H. G. Lauterbach.

The nursery addition to the rear of the present structure will cost an estimated $20,000. Earl Felt, longtime local contractor, will supervise the construction.

Construction time has been reduced to 100 days for getting the nursery in operation in the last quarter of this year. The nursery will accomodate a maximum of 60 children.

To bring the cost of operation out of the professional class and to make the service available to a greater number of needier persons, Lieutenant Montgomery pointed out, the project will have to be supported by Community Chest funds to the extent of $1,000 per quarter.

"Certainly the people of this community understand that in view of inflation and rising costs of living and operations, conditions necessarily are accompanied by more social problems demanding more money and more effort as time goes on," he stated.

"As one of the only two charitable agencies in Twin Falls," he continued, "we must obtain more support in the future than in the past, or such additional programs are impossible."

Priest Officiates at Ceremony

Catholic Church Cornerstone Is Set at Jerome Ceremony

JEROME, April 26—Ceremonies were held Sunday afternoon for the laying of the corner stone for the new $70,000 St. Jerome's Catholic church. The building will be completed sometime in July.

The Rev. Father E. A. Schermanson led the opening prayer and scriptures were Lynn Smith and Tommy Ruby. D. A. L'Heisson was master of ceremonies and gave a history of the church in Jerome. Only two of the persons who worked to erect the first church in 1910 were present at the ceremony Sunday. They were L'Heisson and Maurice V. Wolfe.

L'Heisson stated that the first church became too small and plans were laid for a larger church. First funds were given by farmers of the parish who pledged beans that were sold in the fall. He said World War II slowed up building plans but last July the go ahead was given for the church now under construction.

L'Heisson introduced Mayor John Hosman who spoke briefly to the gathering.

The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Jack Tubbs, sang accompanied by Ann Hof at the organ.

Members of the building committee were introduced. They include Mrs. Aloys Hof, Mrs. Trappen and L'Herisson.

The copper box containing all church data and newspapers were placed in the cornerstone by the Rev. Father Schermanson. The final cementing was done by A. E. Bobier and Henry Kohlruss, Twin Falls contractors.

Some farmers put geese in their strawberry beds. They keep the grass down and do not eat strawberry foliage.

Red Planes Use British Engines, Solon Declares

WASHINGTON, April 26 (U.P.)—Rep. Clarence J. Brown, R., O., says he has been informed that "every single enemy plane shot down in Korea was found to be powered by British-built jet engines."

He said he was told this by a member of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's staff.

Brown made the statement at a house rules committee hearing on proposed legislation to loan U. S. grain to India.

He complained that U. S. foreign aid programs frequently have helped build up communists-controlled countries because of inadequate safety features to prevent that.

Virtually all the world's cryolite, used in aluminum manufacture, is mined in Greenland.

Dispatches to Be Studied in Policy Probe

WASHINGTON, April 26 (UP)—Chairman Richard B. Russell of the senate committee investigating Gen. Douglas MacArthur's dismissal says he will subpoena secret dispatches bearing on the case.

The Georgia Democrat told a reporter he referred particularly to dispatches which MacArthur claims will support his statement that the U. S. joint chiefs of staff backed his views for pushing the Korean war.

Russell predicted, however, that the highly classified data will be forthcoming "voluntarily."

List Sent

Senate investigators sent the Pentagon an initial list of documents they want produced for the inquiry to open Thursday, May 3, with MacArthur's appearance.

The request, it was learned, covered all correspondence dealing with the military chief's views on MacArthur's recommendations for using Chinese nationalist troops, a tight blockade of the Chinese coast and bombing of the red's sanctuary in Manchuria.

Seeks Secret Report

A demand also was made by Sen. William F. Knowland, R., Calif., a member of Russell's armed services committee, for the long-sought report on Korea written in 1947 by Lieut.-Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer.

He also asked for the identity of authors of the state department field memo which in December, 1949, advised diplomats abroad to prepare public opinion for the fall of Formosa, Chinese nationalist bastion, to the communists.

Committee Finds Camp Operations 'Generally Good'

WASHINGTON, April 26 (UP) — The senate preparedness subcommittee has released reports on four indoctrination and training centers showing that "generally conditions are good," although the centers have some "serious problems."

The reports carried the results of subcommittee investigations at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.; Ft. Jackson, S. C.; Camp Chaffee, Ark., and the marine corps recruit depot in San Diego.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, D., Tex., plans reports on 12 other installations.

"These four bases are fairly typical of what we found during our investigation," Johnson said. "Generally, conditions are good, although there have been some serious problems such as the lack of satisfactory instructors at Camp Chaffee.

"We were especially pleased to find the commands at the various installations well aware of their problems and trying to remedy local problems."

Editors Flay Model Rules For Defense

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP) — The federally recommended model state civil defense law constitutes a "danger to a free press," the American Newspaper Publishers association was told here.

In a report to the 65th annual ANPA convention, a committee on federal laws said the recommended legislation could lead to efforts to "use our national emergency as an excuse for seizure of the press."

Would OK Seizure

The model law, recommended by the federal civil defense administration for passage by states, contains a provision which would authorize government seizure of transportation and communications in times of emergency, the committee said.

The committee, headed by Col. J. Hale Steinman of the Lancaster, Pa., Intelligencer Journal and New Era, said:

"Up to now we know of no state which has enacted such a law permitting seizure of newspapers, but we feel that this suggestion in a model law from Washington constitutes a danger to a free press.

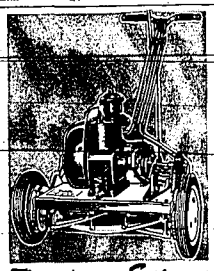

Free Press Necessary

"A free press is necessary in times of emergency, as perhaps at no other time, because the people must be kept informed for their own protection and safety.

"Newspapers have a wonderful record of having cooperated with government in times of emergency or of war, and your committee believes there is inherent danger in any provision of law which would restrict a free press at a time when this country is arming to protect all our freedoms . . ."

Ninth Human Blood Group Is Described

BOSTON, April 26 (AP)—Discovery of a new blood group, the ninth found in humans, was described today at Children's hospital.

It has been named the Kidd group or factor, after a woman whose blood gave the first clue.

Seventy-seven per cent of Americans have Kidd type blood and 23 per cent don't.

It is not yet known whether the Kidd factor is important in blood transfusions. Apparently it isn't.

Blood groups are determined by chemicals in your blood cells. Heredity determines which chemicals you have. Some of the blood groups must be matched carefully, but others are not important. If for example, you have group A blood you also have a chemical in your blood that destroys group B red cells, you can't be given B blood, or your own blood will destroy it.

The Kidd type blood is significant in blood group knowledge because so many people have this kind of blood.

The first blood group discovered was the A, B, O group, which covers people who have A blood, B blood or O blood.

The RH factor is a second important group. About 85 per cent of Americans have it, the rest don't. Trouble may develop if these bloods are mixed.

The other groups are MNS, P, Lewis, Luthren, Kell-Cellano, and Duffy. They never or only rarely cause transfusion troubles.

Idahoans Paying High Car Taxes, Report Indicates

BOISE, April 26 (LP)—An official of the Idaho Highway Users conference pointed out today that Idaho motorists paid $7,155,000 last year in emergency federal automotive taxes.

Chairman Homer Deal said if Secretary of the Treasury Snyder's proposed increase—from 1½ cents to 2 cents a gallon on gasoline and from 7 to 20 per cent on new automobiles—become law this total would be raised to $12,085,000.

"Of this amount," Deal said "$5,251,000 would be in increased gasoline taxes, based on Secretary Snyder's estimates, compared with $2,469,000 for last year. The increased excise tax on new automobiles is estimated at $4,826,000."

Patrol Soviet Zone Border

In a driving snowstorm, the U. S. army's 759th horse platoon rides along the Soviet border on "dirty weather" patrol duty. This is one of several scenes taken by NEA/Acme Staff Correspondent Allyn Baum on an eight-hour patrol mission with the cavalrymen. They were the first photos since 1945 of the horse platoon on duty other than ceremonial parade.

Last U. S. Horse Platoon Still Rides Army Patrols in Reich

By ALLYN BAUM

BERLIN, Germany—(NEA)—The last and only mounted horse platoon on active duty in the U. S. army still rides in Berlin.

Its 36 men and their horses, part of the 759th military police, were among the first troops to enter Berlin in 1945. Then their job was to patrol the Soviet zonal border, maintain order, and carry out missions in parts of the city where mechanized vehicles are unable to operate.

Today the 759th horse platoon's primary task is riot control. As a part of the American constabulary, it is a highly-mobile striking force, heavily armed with rifles, pistols, sabres and riot sticks.

Many of the men under Lieut. Marion A. Lewis, jr., Reading, Pa., platoon commandant, are old hands in the cavalry. First Sgt. Emmitt Roberts, Denison, Tex., for instance, is a survivor of the Bataan death march who has ridden horses in the army for 20 years. Sgt. Paul Sanford, of Marks, Miss., has been a cavalryman for 12 years.

Although patrolling is now secondary duty for this last remnant of American cavalry, its men are called out to ride the meandering border between the U. S. and Soviet zones in dirty weather.

Then, in heavy snow or rain, nine men ride their horses for an eight-hour stint.

Their saddles are McClellans, the design of which dates back to Civil war days when mounted troops first became an important part of the U. S. army.

Unlike motorized patrols, the horse platoon has no radio communications while it is on border duty. Orders and messages are sent to the patrol by dispatch rider.

It may be out of step with push-button warfare, but the 759th horse platoon still gets places where other patrols can't go.

New ROTC Unit Presented to ISC

POCATELLO, April 26 (AP)—Commission for a chemical warfare unit has been presented to Idaho State college. Maj.-Gen. M. B. Halsey, San Francisco, deputy commander of the sixth army, presented the commission to Dr. Carl W. McIntosh, president of ISC.

Freshmen and sophomore men who pass physical examinations will be enrolled in the reserve officer training, while juniors and seniors will gain reserve commissions and specialize in the field of chemical warfare.

Released

EMERSON, April 26—Lenz Hunt and his counselors, Alma Blacker and George Crofts, and Ward Clerk Lyman Jensen have been released from the Emerson ward bishopric. Clifton May was sustained as the new bishop, Lyman Jensen as first counselor, James Toone, second counselor, and Farley Meecham, ward clerk.

1 Drop Noted In Checks by Car Counters

BOISE, April 26 (AP)—Fewer automobiles were counted on busy U. S. highway 10 between Coeur d'Alene and Spokane in March this year than in March, 1950. All others showed gains.

The state highway department noted, however, that the decrease probably was due to a new location of the counter 5.5 miles west of Coeur d'Alene.

It showed 132,145 vehicles in March, 1951, compared with 137,105 in March, 1950.

Checks at all other stations showed gains. They included (1951 figures first, 1950 second):

U. S. 30, eight miles east of Boise—67,270 and 62,804.

U. S. 30, three miles east of Twin Falls—120,940 and 117,053.

U. S. 30N, seven miles south of Pocatello—95,383 and 85,791.

U. S. 91, seven miles north of Pocatello—124,669 and 110,923.

U. S. 95, three miles east of Lewiston—71,787 and 70,487.

State 25 two and a half miles west of Jerome—71,495 and 70,503.

State 10 two and a half miles west of Caldwell—66,288 in 1951; no check in 1950.

Atomic Expansion Program Contains 2 Secret Projects

WASHINGTON, April 26 (LP)—The $2,000,000,000 atomic expansion program now under way includes two costly projects so secret officials won't even say their names in public.

This was disclosed with the publication of recent atomic energy commission testimony before a house appropriations subcommittee.

Presumably the new projects will be facilities for boosting manufacture and stockpiling of atomic weapons of various advanced sorts. But in a table presented to the subcommittee the AEC identified them only as "special projects," purpose and location unstated.

One will cost $100,000,000 when completed — if present estimates stand up. The other will cost $95,832,000.

Their existence was disclosed in connection with a commission request for an extra $51,300,000 with which to push along some 23 new construction projects in the fiscal year ending June 30.

About 444,000 acres of sweet potatoes are expected to be grown on U. S. farms in 1951.

Delay Granted on State Price Data

BOISE, April 26 (AP)—A 90-day extension of the deadline for filing of price ceiling charts for numerous items has been granted.

Harry L. Yost, district price stabilization director, said the extension now sets May 30 as the new price chart deadline for retailers of clothing, shoes, textiles, hardware, furniture, rugs, lamps, musical instruments, radios, phonographs, house-wares, notions, luggage, sporting goods, bicycles, silverware, china, glassware, jewelry, watches and clocks.

Dude Ranches Are Preparing For Big Year

HELENA, Mont., April 26 (UP)—Montana's $1,000,000 dude ranch industry has been busy cleaning up the winter debris in preparation for summer's annual exodus of city folk who hanker for a western vacation.

The state's more than 75 dude ranches already have begun renovations, saddle stock roundups and general sprucing up for the crop of debutantes and stenographers, business executives and clerks—or anyone else with the vacation idea of high-heeled boots, levis and cayuses.

Banner Year Expected

The Dude Ranchers association with headquarters in Billings reports another banner year coming up. The general season usually begins around June 1 and continues through September. A few early birds begin arriving around the final week in May.

Ranch owners say most of the visits last anywhere from two weeks to a month.

Prices this year, according to the state advertising department, will run a little more than last season. Dude wranglers are advertising rates which run in a wide range from $35 to $105 per week. Average is about $55 to $75, and that usually includes the works.

Two Choices

In general, the vacationer has a choice of two kinds of spreads: Those which primarily are stock ranches and take guests on the side, or those that confine their efforts solely to entertaining guests.

Regardless of the type ranch, the dude usually gets his chance at riding the ponies, fishing for fighting trout or taking in overnight camping trips into the back country. On the stock ranches, dudes sometimes get a part in herding activities.

Official Urges Early Use of Shale for Oil

ST. LOUIS, April 26 (U.P.)—Secretary of Interior Oscar L. Chapman believes commercial interests should start producing petroleum products from oil shale and coal as insurance against a future petroleum shortage.

If they do, Chapman said, "that ominous spectre of a crippling fuel famine can be pushed back for generations."

In a speech before the American Association of Petroleum Geologists Chapman said the United States will use more oil than ever during the mobilization drive. He indicated this steady drain on oil reserves may outrun discoveries of new supplies.

Must Be Prepared

Therefore, he said, the nation must be prepared for alternative solutions to the fuel problem and the best the interior department has come up with so far is synthetic petroleum.

Chapman said the country "possesses enormous reserves of both oil shale and coal" and the bureau of mines has devised ways of getting petroleum from these minerals at reasonable costs. For shale, he said, bureau experiments have shown it costs only 7½ cents to mine and deliver to the retort enough shale to produce one gallon of crude oil."

Variety of Fuels

From there, he said, the shale can be refined into a variety of fuels, including motor gasoline, diesel oil and jet fuel.

Chapman said it would cost slightly more to produce petroleum from coal but he said this higher expense would be offset by lower transportation costs since many coal deposits are located near consuming areas.

Land Board Will Receive Plan on Parks for Lakes

BOISE, April 26 (AP)—A proposed agreement for development of recreation facilities at American falls and Walcott lakes on Snake river will be presented to the state land board soon.

Land Commissioner Edward Woozley said he has conferred with representatives of the U. S. representatives of the U. S. bureau of reclamation and U. S. park service on the agreement, which is now being drafted.

"Not much state money" will be available for the areas, Woozley said. The land department is trying to encourage civic groups at Rupert, American Falls and Aberdeen to build fire places, picnic tables and other facilities at the sites.

Woozley said improvements also will be made by the state at Massacre rocks and Register rock, between American Falls and Rupert.

The 1951 legislature passed a bill allowing the land board to set up recreational areas around Lake Walcott and the American falls reservoir.

Hank Can't Believe President And Dean Didn't Turn on TV

By HENRY McLEMORE

I feel sorry for President Truman. I feel real sorry for him.

Not for the Truman of today, mind you, but for the Truman of tomorrow, who'll have to admit to his grandchildren that he doesn't remember a thing they've been told about General MacArthur's return to his native land after 14 years of superintendence service to his country.

He'll have to answer the questions of his grandchildren about the hero's return in a most evasive way. Let us picture a scene in the future, with Margaret's children gathered around Granddad's knee.

McLemore

Children: Today, April 19, MacArthur day. Tell us about when he came back from Japan, Grandpop.

Grandpop: Children, I didn't happen to see him that day.

Children: Weren't you in Washington that day, Grandpop?

Grandpop: Yes, I was, but I was mighty busy. Had a meeting with Dean Acheson.

Children: Who is Dean Acheson, Grandpop?

Grandpop: You children run along now. Grandpop is tired.

Children: But all the children we play with say their grandmas and grandfathers saw General MacArthur in his parade, or on the television, or heard him on radio. Some of them brag that their mamas and papas and grandmothers and grandfathers even got to hear and see him when he came back from Japan. One boy says his grandpop sat only a few seats away from the general when he talked to all the congressmen and senators. Couldn't you have gotten a seat close by if you had tried, Grandpop?

Grandpop: Margaret, please put the children to bed.

Children: Please, Grandpop, just one more minute. The teacher says General MacArthur is the greatest living American, and that his speech will be remembered as long as Americans live. Didn't you have a television set that day, Grandpop? Or a radio? Was that Dean so important that you couldn't even listen to the General talk?

Grandpop: Children, Granddad will give each of you a quarter if you'll stop asking questions and go to bed like nice children.

Children: Okay, Grandpop. Goodnight. But we do wish you had been there to see the general and tell us all about him.

(As they troop out of the room the children join hands and sing the old ballad about how old soldiers never die, just fade away.)

Fanciful as this may seem, something approaching it easily could happen.

For the life of me, I can't imagine the President and Acheson sitting together in conference while one of the most dramatic happenings in American history was taking place.

How could the two of them, Truman and Acheson, between them lack enough curiosity not to delay their conference for 40 minutes to turn on a TV set and hear and watch MacArthur's speech to the joint houses of congress.

It is conceivable that two untutored mountaineers might not have enough curiosity about history in the making to take time off to hear such a speech, but who would guess it of the President of the United States and the secretary of state of the United States?

Not only did those two ignore MacArthur's address, but they accented proud of the fact. Had a press secretary announce it to the press.

There is a limit to business as usual, and this refusal of the President and secretary of state to listen to the general, certainly stands as a first-class example.
